Fellowship Application Form

Fellowship is a demonstration of commitment to The British Institute of Recruiters and an acknowledgement of an individual's contribution to the recruitment profession, its standards and practice. Fellowship of The British Institute of Recruiters is offered to individuals who, in the opinion of the Institute, are highly skilled and qualified in recruitment, or who are senior members of the recruitment profession and whose experience is of such distinction as to justify BIOR fellowship.

Successful applicants are required to pay an annual subscription fee of £125. More information on subscription fees is available at: BIOR Fellowship or email: support@ior.org

Please print your answers clearly. Please complete all sections, read the declaration, and sign the form. Incomplete or unsigned forms cannot be processed and will be returned.

Declaration

I am not aware of any disciplinary or other issues which may affect standing as a recruitment professional.

I declare that I shall follow all regulations and the Code of Professional and Ethical Conduct and shall do nothing which in the opinion of the Institute is prejudicial to the interest of, or derogatory to, the honour of the Institute or of my profession.

The Institute is occasionally asked by employers, candidates, government bodies or other similar organisations to verify an individual's membership/qualification status for employment or other purposes.

I consent to The British Institute of Recruiters in providing verification of my membership status to 3rd parties.

I have attached evidence of my qualifications and detailed up to date CV.
I confirm that the details provided in this form are correct.
